Princess Victoria, sister of King George, died Tuesday morning at her home in Coppins, Iver, Buckinghamshire, England, following a severe stomach hemorrhage. She was 67 years of age.

Anyone who has old magazines, etc., that they wish to send to the men at the Crow's Nest Lake camp, will kindly get in touch with Mrs. H. Pinkney. She will have the members of the 1st Blairmore Ranger Patrol, of the Girl Guides, call for same. This service on the part of the girls is in answer to an appeal along these lines made through our columns a couple of weeks ago.

War prices are prevailing in Italy, where cigarettes are 65c per package, gasoline 85c per gallon, tea from $3.00 to $4.00 per pound. This will remind Canadians of the days from 1914 to 1918, when potatoes brought five dollars a bag, and a hundred-weight of sugar sold at about $25.00, or five times the price now prevailing.—Hanover Post.

HARVEY WHEATCROFT RECEIVES GOLD CROSS

A large crowd of citizens assembled at the central school grounds on Friday afternoon, when Major J. W. Gresham, district commissioner of the Boy Scouts' Association, presented Scout Harvey Wheatcroft, of Blairmore No. 1 Troop, with the association's Gilt Cross for life saving.

J. E. Gillis, B.A., and C. J. Tompkins of the local Scout committee spoke on the value of the training boys receive in the Boy Scout Association, and that it was this training that enabled Scout Wheatcroft to save the life of little Clair Bennett last spring when she fell into the swift rushing waters of the Old Man river. Wheatcroft was passing near the scene of the accident and, hearing the cries of other children, rushed to the spot and boldly plunged in and brought the child to safety, and with his knowledge of First Aid revived her.

In presenting the medal, Major Gresham highly complimented Scout Wheatcroft on his presence of mind and bravery shown.

Mr. H. M. Bennett, father of the child, was present, and publicly thanked the plucky boy for his noble act.

RED CROSS CAMPAIGN

May we ask you to treat this as a very special appeal. A crucial testing period has come for the Red Cross. This organization finds it necessary to say to its Red Cross friends in Alberta that on the results of this campaign depend whether our services will be continued or drastically reduced.

Since 1929 your Red Cross in Alberta has expended $223,000 to help tide thousands of worthy citizens over the depression period. The results are worth it, and we would not hesitatingly do the same again if the need arose.

We are now at the crossroads; can we go on with all of our much-needed services intact, or must we curtail? The extent of any such curtailment will be measured out in terms of suffering and, in the case of our Junior Red Cross Children's Hospital, we may be compelled to further reduce the number of beds and refuse admission to crippled children who look to the Red Cross for normal life and romping childhood.

Our assurance that this will not happen is our confidence that you, appreciating the quality and extent of the work, will not let it happen. You have made it possible for the Red Cross to give to this emergency its best. YOUR best at this time will enable the Red Cross to fulfill its obligations to the sick and suffering of this province to an extent unequalled in the past.

Our objective is $20,000, or $0,000 silver quarters. We need all of this to carry on. Our services are outlined below for your consideration.

This is your opportunity to be kind and generous to a worthy cause and we invite you to encourage us in our work by mailing your contribution today to the Canadian Red Cross Society, Alberta Division, 17 Customs Building, Calgary.

Yours sincerely,
W. L. WALSH,
Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta, Patron, Alberta Division.
NORMAN HINDSLEY,
President.

Your Red Cross has helped 2,242 crippled children since 1922 in the Junior Red Cross Children's Hospital, and since 1929 has expended $140,000 on this work;

Expended $66,000 since 1929 in providing clothing, medicines and other relief to help the sick and expectant mothers, the family in distress, the hungry, homeless and destitute.

Conducted home nursing classes and distributed 27,055 health pamphlets through our health and hygiene service by mail;

Operated a First Aid Station in Calgary in conjunction with the Government and cared for 17,605 patients who were unemployed, at a cost of $6,000;

Acted as agents for the Alberta Provincial Government and distributed clothing in the amount of $275,000 to 108,553 persons.

In Supreme Court at Macleod on Monday, Joseph Fitzpatrick, former chief of police at Blairmore, was found guilty of extortion and was sentenced by Mr. Justice Ives to a term of two years less a day in Lethbridge jail.

The sum involved was in the neighborhood of $1,000. The case for the Crown was concluded at noon. J. L. Fawcett, K.C., Macleod, and A. B. Hogg, K.C., Lethbridge, appeared for the Crown, while S. G. Bannan, of Blairmore, defended the accused. F. O. McKenna, of Pincher Creek, held a watching brief for Mae Cudmore, of Blairmore, sister of the late Leona Cudmore, two girls involved in the case.

Sam Kubiski in his evidence stated he knew the late Leona Cudmore for several years, and loaned her $500 and later $285 to pay on a car. On May 25th, he said, he visited Leona's house to get some security for the loans. Chief Fitzpatrick came in on the scene, telling him what a terrible offence this was. Kubiski said he offered the Chief $1,000 if he would keep it quiet, and later Leona, Fitzpatrick and Kubiski drove in a taxi to Sam's house, where the latter endorsed cheques for $400 and $750 and gave them to Fitzpatrick, Fitzpatrick then he would give him the $1,000 change on Monday.

Kubiski, on being questioned, admitted that he had given presents to Leona and had discussed marriage with her. He had been married previously, but was divorced.

"You were the Christmas tree," His Lordship remarked.

"Yes," the witness replied.

Mr. Bannan cross-examined the witness as to the house Leona Cudmore had conducted at Blairmore, the witness explaining that it was run with the knowledge of Blairmore's town council, and that the chief of police inspected it occasionally.

It was stated on the stand that Mayor Knight appeared on the scene just as the trio left the Cudmore place for Sam's house.

In his evidence, Sergt. Cawsey, of the R.C.M.P. told of Kubiski coming to him with a warrant for the arrest of Leona Cudmore. It was made out on information of Kubiski. He said he later met the Cudmore girls in a truck and arrested Leona. He asked for the two cheques, and Mae Cudmore pulled them out of her stocking and gave them to the officer. They were entered as exhibits.

James F. Cook, truck driver of Pincher Creek, told of driving the Cudmore girls to Creston, B.C., on the Sunday, and bringing them back on Monday. He said Leona attempted to cash a cheque at Cranbrook. It was his truck that Sergt. Cawsey met.

Copined that witnesses for the defense had deliberately perjured themselves, and maintaining that "where by position and training a man knows better, a position of trust and authority, his punishment should be greater than that of the man of the street." Justice Ives sentenced Fitzpatrick to two years less one day hard labor at the Lethbridge jail. The prisoner displayed no outward feeling when sentence was imposed.

The first count against Fitzpatrick was dismissed by His Lordship on the grounds of insufficient evidence.

LOCAL PASTOR RETURNING FROM ONTARIO MISSION

Rev. Albert E. Larke, who for the past two months has been in Ontario on a special preaching mission in the interests of the Missionary and Maintenance Fund of the United Church of Canada, will return on Friday night of this week to resume his duties as minister of Central United church, Blairmore.

Mr. Larke's itinerary took him into the Presbyteries of Bruce, Brantford, Belleville, Middlesex, Oxford, Simcoe and Toronto.

While enroute from Toronto to London, Mr. Larke visited and spoke at Dungenannon United church, where Mrs. Larke's brother, Rev. T. R. Turner, is minister. He finished his mission at Brantford last week, returning to Toronto to report to the central office and to bid farewell to his brother, John S. Larke, along with a host of both old and new friends.

On Sunday, December 1st, he was guest speaker at Kirkland Lake Trinity United church, which service was broadcast. Arriving in Winnipeg yesterday, where a stopover for train connections was necessary, he spoke in one of the city churches, where Rev. W. E. Donnelly is the minister.

Mr. Larke attended a luncheon in honor of the new governor-general of Canada, John Buchan, given by the Canadian Club at the Royal York hotel, Toronto, on November the 28th, guest of Rev. Peter Bryce, D.D.

Mrs. Larke and daughters Winifred and Myrna, who for the past few weeks have been visiting with Rev. N. W. and Mrs. Whitmore at the Pincher Creek manse, will be returning with Mr. Larke tomorrow.

Saturday last was one of the biggest paydays in the Crow's Nest Pass in years. The only camp not working in the period was Corbin, the credit for which goes to the red element.

The title of world wheat king has again been brought to Canada, this time by W. Frelaud Wilford, of Staveland. At the Chicago International Exposition, Albertans carried off fifty out of eighty-seven awards in hay and grain.

The whist drive held in the B.E.S. L. clubrooms on Friday night last, sponsored by the entertainment committee, was largely attended and most enjoyable. Twelve hands of whist were played, winners being: Mrs. W. Johnson, ladies' first; Mrs. M. A. Vaughn, second; W. Gray, gent's first, A. Vejprava, second. Refreshments were served and a short period was spent at dancing.

Mr. Aberhart, who takes such objection to the demoralizing influence of today's liquor advertising upon the youthhood of Alberta, should have attended social functions in this province but a few years ago. He has missed a lot that our youthfulness has enjoyed.

Sergt. J. Harold Birks, of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, appeared before Magistrate Wood at Vancouver on Wednesday on a charge of theft, and was remanded to December the 12th. It is alleged the sergeant stole more than $5,000 of police funds.

Oil men and those interested in oil stocks have been particularly interested in the progress of oil drilling in the foothills district lately. The Marjion No. 3 well on the Watson structure north of Lundbreck, with a perfect hole, struck gas estimated at between one and two million feet last week, which will be utilized to fire their boilers. The Weyman well on Mill Creek is rushing right along, and is drilling true to the geologist's predictions. It also looks very promising.—Pincher Creek Echo.

FLEMING'S FOLLY
— BY —
LAWRENCE A. KEATING

CHAPTER I

Chill with promise of approaching winter, a low moaning, sighing wind curled down from the snow peaked Capelin Mountains twenty miles west to devil-dance with macabre glee in the wide main street of the cowtown of Rawhide.

Buckboard teams and saddle horses lined the jumper hitches before Sam Pickett's General Store, the false fronted Half Moon Saloon, and the three-story Trailend Hotel across the street. With ears flapped and muzzles lowered between their knees, roans, mustangs, and bronks huddled together in morose resignation to the sting and nip of dust-swirls that now and then all but hid them from view.

Through rapid, hazy windows of the hotel lobby could be seen the meeting of Boone County cattlemen, called by the owner of the modest Star Loop Ranch, Link Fleming. Every prairie-tanned "cowman" was attuned in lines of gravity, every ear attuned to the earnest words of the twenty-three year old speaker in cowhide vest and work trousers who, with sombrero tilted on his high forehead, faced the crowd from the elevation of a sound-backed hickory chair.

Pausing, Link let his brown eyes rest wide apart and looked with grey, sleepy, slowly, "hopelessly" on the twenty-two men who waited in absorbed interest. He lowered a slawney brown hand to his cartridge belt and shifted the heavy forty-five to a new position on his thigh. Clearing his throat, he held up a paper and continued:

"Reckon every one of you got a message like mine. It says here Uncle Sam don't want us to graze 'ye foothills ranges any more. The reason is, grass up there has got thin and worn out, and never had the chance for a comeback. We've wiped those ranges almost clean, until we've got weeds twelve or fifteen acres. When you started runnin' beef in this section, Seth Howland, what acreage did a studer focus of attention on him, Howland, a lank, watery-eyed veteran of Texas trails, blinked startledly. He rolled the inevitable quid from one hollow cheek to the other and back again. Seth swallowed and shifted weight.

"Feed was plentiful," he answered finally. "Reckon yuh could say half the acreage'd do as much then as now. Maybe less."

"And nobody tried to tell you whether you could graze here or there or some other place. Did they?"

"A dozen pairs of eyes moved from Seth to the somewhat flushed face of Buzz Hamilton, young manager of his own and his absent sister Helen's Triple H brand. Buzz removed the drooping brown paper cigarette from his mouth. It was plain from his scornful tone and attitude that before coming here he had paused at the Half Moon Saloon for liquid refreshment which always had the effect of making him surly.

"Nobody ever could tell a Texan man nothin'." Howland agreed with pride. "The range was free in them days, like it oughta be free now!"

Growls and nods proved the body of ranchers in hearty accord. "Ain't no city gent gonna tell me where to feed my cows!" threatened redheaded Burr Calgan.

"What's the gov'ment got to say about this, anyhow?" another man demanded.

"Anybody tried to stop up from summer'n in them foothills, he's plumb liable to get his neck stretched on the handiest blue plin!" loudly declared Oyp Vallie.

"Boys," Link put in, "I don't like this interference any better than you do. But it won't solve our problems to hang anyone, or put up a gunfight. Down at Ox Draw they had a necktie party with a government man for the honored guest. The result was a regular small-time war, with seven killed, cattle run off, and a dozen ranchers and waddies jailed. The government won. Ox Draw cattle stayed out of the foothills last summer, didn't they?"

"That's right." As everyone looked at his way Otto Pieper, the scrawny-necked president of the Stockmen's Bank, paled. He passed a bony hand over his shining bald head as if in fear of the hair that once had warmed it, and caused his Adam's apple to bob up and down in nervous preparation for further speech.

"It'd be suicide," he quavered. "Kill ten agents and 50 soldiers! Come. Hang the lot of 'em and five hundred'll be here next day. No, sir!" Otto declared with emphasis. "This government 'mean' means what it says. Fleming is dead right about that. I stand for everything fair on the range, but for the American flag, too! That there, uh, striped cross o' patriotism borne so fearlessly by a host of honest-meanin' pioneers like ourselves. Gents, would yuh snap at the hand that's feedin' yuh and killin'?" Pieper advised earnestly.

"Abandon it, I say, and—"

"Elect you to Congress!"

There was a laugh at Pieper's expense. As it rippled and died Hamilton bowed his way to the front of the crowd until he stood near burly, heavy-browed Roger Kilgo. Buzz's hot words were calculated to inflame others with his own fiery impulsiveness.

"That's all right to talk big, but what will it get yuh? For years them foothills have been free. Now some politician decides we got to be kicked off. Is that justice? Why, there wouldn't be a settlement in the whole west if it wasn't for cattle-men!"

"I say," he went on, warmed to alcoholic bitterness, "if government agents come here to enforce this, lynch 'em. Show who's boss. Are we goin' to let them eastern guys starve our herds and ruin us? If we're goin' to lose everything anyhow, we might as well fight!"

His words brought grim approval from several men in a series of low muttered growls that ran around the hotel lobby. Watching closely, Link saw his own foreman, forthright Buster Townsend, apparently swayed by this suggestion of rough and ready resistance. So also was Honest John Mulrooney, a heavily built Irishman, Fleming's neighbor. Marty Bush, the local cattle agent, remained calm, as did a few others. Fearful lest the meeting get out of hand so that he could not offer the plan for which he had summoned them here, Link sought some means of placating the men.

"A year ago we talked of ways of improving our range, making more money out of it," he suggested. "A remedy which is even more important to us now. What we need is permanent relief."

"Irrigation, I suppose," sneered Hamilton. "You been cracked on it ever since yuh came here." He swayed slightly as he faced the crowd. "What's the use talkin' about schemes that's never been tried? I say we got to fight for our rights, or nobody'll even feel sorry for us!"

"Who says it's never been tried?" Roger Kilgo spoke up good naturedly.

ly. "I'm for findin' out, in case irrigat'on'd be a good thing. Especially 'cause like Pieper told us, boys, we can't fight the whole U.S. Army."

"Let's hear what Link's got to say," he went on in a persuasive tone. "I never thought much about water in' dead land, but Fleming's talked it a long time, and I reckon he's gone into it plumb thorough. Tells me he got Soak Torney to draw up plans for a scheme to irrigate the whole valley. I'm with you gents on whatever's decided, but this grainin' order means business, so we ought to look into the water question."

Link felt a thrill of relief as the words brought instant pause. He had begun to fear from Pieper's silence that he was failing him. No particular friends, this was one of the rare occasions on which they found themselves working in harmony.

Fleming had ridden to the Box 50 yesterday to win this powerful support to his irrigation scheme at which Kilgo, like most other ranchers, had always scoffed. But the grazing order seemed to make him willing to reconsider, for he owned the largest herd of beef cattle in Boone County.

"Tell yuh, Link," Roger had declared after the visitor outlined his purpose, "I'll do what I can to have the boys think it over. Can't promise they'll back it, but I guess we're all willin' to be shown."

"This was indeed a concession, and it roused hope in the Star Loop owner. "That's all I ask," he grinned eagerly. "If you'll help get the men in a receptive frame of mind I'll explain to them. If they reject it we haven't lost anything. And if they go in for it this country will be a changed place!"

Kilgo had studied his visitor shrewdly. "Then yuh don't think irrigation is just a crazy, newfangled idea?"

"Not at all. It'll not only save us from ruin, but it will make every spread more prosperous than ever before. Your place can benefit plenty."

"Well, I'm always open-minded to a good thing. I'll get yuh a hearin', Link. Reckon if Roger Kilgo says 'Boys, listen to this,' they'll listen. Eh?"

It was true enough. He was the most influential citizen of Boone County—and Link had come to suspect the real power behind local affairs. He was virtually county boss, a czar, jealous of his prestige and ruling with an iron fist. The man who dared interfere with or oppose Pieper was doomed to defeat. There were whispered stories almost became legend, of certain persons he had marked with his wrath, and the series of misfortunes which came their way after that. More than one small-rancher finally had sold out for a pitiful sum, his acres and stores becoming part of the Box 50 while the man himself hurriedly sought Boone County dust from his boots and never was heard of again.

Roger's influence defied analysis: it appeared to be a strange combination of brute force and personal magnetism. A number of ranchers constantly owed him sums of money, although the Stockmen's Bank existed to care for just such financial matters. Other men were indebted to him for services never rendered or imagined. Still others gave blind allegiance as in all ages and in all climes the weak obey the strong. The Box 50 owner was strong, he was forceful. With a round, black-thatched head set on a powerful physique, he was as powerful physically as he was mentally when crossed, and determined on every project he undertook.

He (after being turned down): "I'm not worrying; there's a lot more life in the sea."

She: "Yes, and if nobody's got all that better than you have!" they'll all stay there."

News About Little Prince of Kent Is Eagerly Read

The recently born Prince of Kent, who may some day sit upon the mighty throne of England, is competing these days most successfully with war news and what the Prince of Wales was doing.

The most minute details of how the baby son of the Duke and Duchess of Kent is progressing are devoured by the British public.

In drawing room, banquet hall and "pub" there is a new toast in vogue—"To the little Prince."

He is the fifth grandchild and the third grandson of the King and Queen, and will have the title of royal highness. Since 1917, this title has been confined to the issue of any British sovereign and to the issue of the sons of the sovereign.

The little Prince is related to half of Europe. In his veins flows royal German blood from his grandmother, who was a Princess of Teck, and from the King, grandson of Alberta the Good of Saxo-Coburg-Gotha. The royal baby is also related to Russian, Danish and Roumanian royalty.

A new coat of arms must be chosen for the highborn baby. The College of Arms will design it, and it must be approved by the King.

Ex-Prisoner Makes Good

Studies Advertising and Builds Up An Envyable Business

Years spent behind the grim walls of Ohio penitentiary, showed Daniel Boggs, now only 31 years of age, the way to earn an honest fortune.

Since he was released from the penitentiary less than a year ago through executive clemency, Boggs has built up an enviable advertising business and now has three offices.

During his sentence in the penitentiary Boggs studied advertising and became an advertising writer able to earn money to provide financial aid to his aged mother and four sisters. They depended on him before he was "taken away."

He won the admiration of advertising men in Columbus, O., by his aptitude for copy-writing ability and, while behind the walls he built a thriving mail order business.

Upon his release he was offered a job in Cincinnati at $75 a week. He declined the offer and remained here to establish his own concern.

Boggs is blazing a glorious trail along the "come-back" path and as a doctor to ailing business firms he has proven quite successful.

Famous Paintings For Rent

University Trying To Foster Deeper Appreciation For Art

Hall bedrooms that never saw any better art than movie stars' pictures, will soon be blossoming out with colored reproductions of famous paintings, if Prof. Lester Longman's plans go through. The professor is head of the fine arts department of McMaster University, and has hit on the idea of renting out the college-owned pictures at 10 cents for two weeks.

"The 10 cents fee is really a guarantee of interest," the professor told The Herald. "It will mean that the students won't just drag the pictures home, put them aside and pay no more attention to them. I feel that the time will be a sort of premium, and I think that a deeper appreciation of art will be fostered this way."

At present the pictures are on exhibition at the university. There are 65 now framed and ready to be rented. The collection contains pictures of the 17th and 18th century masters, as well as some modern cubist and impressionist. Among the older pictures are Gainsborough's "Portrait of Graham," Lawrence's "Master Hampton," and Gilbert Stuart's "Portrait of Washington."

There are no Canadian reproductions, because the work of Canadian artists are not reproduced in such proportions. There are English, French, Italian and one or two Spanish portraits.

The idea of renting pictures originated two years ago with a friend of Prof. Longman at Brown University in the United States.

Britain's Defence Plans

Country Obligated To Bring Forces Up For Safety

Britain proposes to spend one billion dollars at once in building up the navy and the air force until these are the strongest in the world. Britain is to take no chances. She is not going to trust pious hopes any longer. If trouble comes, she is going to be prepared for it. Might has again taken the place of right as a solution of international troubles, and if preparation for war can stop war, Britain is going to be ready to do the stopping.

This is a tragic situation to develop so soon after the great world war. Britain, however, is blameless for it. She disarmed, while others were arming. She cut down her defence forces to a dangerous low level, as an example to other nations, an example which they refused to follow. Under these circumstances, it is not to be wondered at that realism has taken the place of idealism in Britain's defence plans.—Ottawa Times.

Raising Gigantic Toads

To Be Obligated To Curb Increase Of White Grub

An "army" of gigantic toads is being mobilized at the Morings sugar experimental station in North Queensland, Australia. In due course, they will be flung into action against a certain kind of crop-destroying white grub. Originally, 100 of these toads were imported from Hawaii. Now there are 2,000 of them and the number is increasing rapidly. It is said to be the first time that such creatures have bred in captivity.

Canada-India Trade

Bright prospects for increasing trade between Canada and India through direct steamship services between the two countries were seen by Major J. G. Parmelee, deputy minister of trade and commerce for Canada. Major Parmelee assured importers and exporters doing business with India full co-operation from the department of trade and commerce.

Unusual Source of Wealth

Yugoslavian Youths Making Money Through Selling Frogs

A plague of frogs has brought wealth to the districts around Valjevo, Yugoslavia. All the summer the frogs made life almost unbearable. Their presence on the roads made motoring unsafe and their loud croaks made conversation out of doors almost impossible. Then two youths from the district went to Paris for a holiday. There they found frog legs a popular delicacy and hurried home to get into the business of shipping them to Paris. Exports of Valjevo frogs now go there regularly by air—and the peasants are finding their frogs have legs of gold.

W. J. BARTLETT, PUBLISHER

Blairmore, Alta., Thurs., Dec. 5, 1935

It may not be possible for an auditor to detect where Blairmore town funds have been misappropriated, but the department of municipal affairs should make an effort to find out, in order to quell persistent rumors.

Even the town council of Okotoks received a letter from our red cousin, asking them to join with them in protesting to the government against towns having to pay 42% of the relief charges. Anyway, the Okotoks council decided to act wisely and to claim they had "no particular anxiety to get mixed up with the Blairmore council whose vivid color doesn't seem to appeal to them."

It is only a few years ago that Capt. Beebe, then a member of the town council of Blairmore, was delegated to represent the town of Blairmore at Edmonton in the interest of our community. "Cap" returned and handed over to the council the change from the $50 check he had been handed upon leaving. Let Bill Knight come back with an itemized statement that will satisfy the majority of the ratepayers at this time!

It is interesting to note that on the day following Bill Knight's departure for Toronto on a mission not the business of the ratepayers of Blairmore, but to be financed out of Blairmore's treasury to the extent of less than $500, that appeals were being made for assistance to Blairmore's unemployed. That money should far better have been left with our unemployed, and as a matter of fact could be classed today as misappropriated funds, in that not a cent of it was entrusted to the town for such silly purpose.

Here is a word-for-word copy of an Alberta beer advertisement, claimed demoralizing to our youths: "From the cradle of the Old World brewing art—a new Vienna-type brew to appease the palates of Alberta's connoisseurs of good beer, 'Edelweiss,' the symbol of purity, rich and mellow, a flavor superb. Try it today. In bottles only at your local hotel or club, or order a case direct from our warehouse." As a matter of fact, we have suffered more from seeing bottles in the ditches along the highway that contained nothing.

Immediately Blairmore's "League of Nations" (Russian to wit) decided to send Bill Knight to vote against War and Fascism. Mussolini took cold feet. Bill was sent forward by a vote of anything but representative of the majority of the ratepayers of Blairmore. As a matter of fact, the fingers of little tots too young for school dangled at the urge of their mothers or parents in support of Bill's pleasure trip at the expense of the ratepayers. Isn't it time the department of municipal affairs took cognizance of this act and couple it with many others that should warrant such expense being taken from the pockets of the mayor and individual members of the council. We cannot find ratepayers apart from ourselves with g—s enough to take a stand. Bill's trip is being paid for, like many other firms, (illegally) out of the town's treasury. Only recently an appeal from a crying woman, who had children less than half clothed or fed, was turned down, temporarily at least, on the ground that the town's treasury could not afford to support her. Now, upwards of one hundred plunks (and probably two hundred) will be thrown away in the interest of a campaign not in the best interest of Canada or the Empire. Why don't the ratepayers or the government wake up!

ABERHART INTERVIEW

FALLS FLA

The Gateway, periodical publication published by the University of Alberta, makes the following comment in its November 29th issue: "Premier Aberhart maintains his status as probably one of the most unaccessible men in creation. The Gateway, after a good deal of trouble to obtain an appointment to see the chief executive of the province finally made the necessary arrangements, and arrived at the Parliament building in a body consisting of two reporters and two photographers last Wednesday afternoon.

The reporters and photographers, evincing one of the year's biggest scoops, wended their way to the office of the Premier through a maze of corridors and passageways, finally arriving at a door marked "Premier," and underneath, "Minister of Education."

Entering into the waiting room of this Holy of Holies, the photographers proceeded to unlumber their cameras, and the reporters to put a few last touches on the coming interview. Then a period of waiting followed, during which a number of match sticks and finger-nails were chewed to a pulp.

Each time a door opened the four hopefuls looked expectantly up, but alas and alack, only some straying or lost stenographer would put in a temporary appearance.

Finally the waiting became terrific, and the atmosphere charged with boredom. One of the reporters fell to pacing the floor muttering fragments of the coming interview.

The monologue was somewhat as follows: "Mr. Aberhart, you are a Queen's man, are you not? In what year did you graduate? How do eastern universities compare? Do you contemplate any changes in the organization of Alberta University? What are the chances of the students being financed in the construction of a Student Union building? What are the chances of a new library building being built on the campus? What do you think of student extra-curricular activities? Do you contemplate any change in the University grant? What do you think of politics amongst students on the campus? What are the prospects of the college graduate of the next five years?"

The mutterings finally died away as the reporter fell exhausted into a chair. Silence once again reigned. A door opened. A secretary entered. The pressmen expectantly rose. "I'm sorry, boys. The Premier will be unable to see you. Leaving for the east in a few days, you know." Consternation!

Observing the fallen and dejected countenances, the secretary intimated that he would take down a few of the most important questions and present them for the consideration of the Premier in his moments of leisure. This offer being accepted, while the photographers sorrowfully folded up their cameras, the reporters communicated some of the outstanding thought-provokers to the obliging secretary.

The dejected procession filed melancholy out in the hall. "H—!" quoth one member of the quartet, "just another story gone East."

It just so happened that Bill Knight passed east through Macleod about the time that the criminal charge against Joseph Fitzpatrick, deposed town police officer, was to be heard.

Women and children voted that Mayor Bill Knight should attend the conference against war and fascism. The representatives of over ninety per cent of Blairmore's taxes did not vote for such throwing away of money.

We picked up a paper yesterday and read an ad with a beautiful picture of two bottles and a heading "Drink Canada Dry!" We have never known anything so demoralizing to Alberta's youth. Mr. Aberhart and his government should look into the matter.

J. L. Parker, who made a big producer out of the North Star mine at Kimberley, is now handling an extensive mining proposition up on Prince of Wales Island, nearly opposite Fort Simpson.—Cranbrook Herald, Nov. 29, 1935.

The following, appearing in the Coleman Journal of last week, has no less than half a dozen couples wondering if it refers to them: "Rumor has it that a well known gentleman of Coleman and a Blairmore lady are to be married in the near future."

A hatter in a thriving town stuck the following notice on his window: "Our felt hats fit so well that they are not felt." Not to be outdone, the man across the way produced the following gem: "Our carpets are sold by the yard, but are not worn by the foot."

Congratulations from newspapermen throughout Alberta have gone to Mr. and Mrs. Clive Nesbitt upon the birth of a daughter on November 24th. Mr. Nesbitt is publisher of the Brooks Bulletin, and is the youngest married editor in the province of Alberta.

Allan Hamilton, former member of the Blairmore school board, will seek re-election as a councillor at Drum-beller.

Bill Knight left Sunday for Toronto and Ottawa, where it is understood he will put an end to war and fascism. It is worth noting that immediately Mussolini got to know that Blairmore's League of Nations was acting, he, too, took cold feet and decided to submit to all penalties proposed through the economic sanctions. Next year at this time, a school holiday may be called to celebrate Bill's forward step.

William Raven, popular conductor of the Cranbrook symphony orchestra, has been compelled to resign that position because of lack of public interest and support.

All wholesale and retail merchants in Alberta will be licensed on January 1st. The move, it is said, is being made at the instance of the merchants themselves, and in some quarters is regarded as a preliminary to a system of merchandising codes of minimum or fixed prices on specific products in Alberta. Cost of the license has not been decided, but is expected to be about $3 each.

The Trade Agreement.

About all that can be said at this juncture in support of the Canada-United States trade agreement signed at Washington on Friday, Nov. 15, is that it is a step in the right direction and should be a prelude to further concessions in the interests of a freer flow of trade and commerce between two great neighboring and friendly countries.

Both the former Canadian administration and the newly-elected Dominion government are deserving of commendation and congratulation for their respective shares in the negotiations which culminated in a pact to promote greater commercial intercourse between two States, geographically and ethnologically designed for close relationships.

Insofar, however, as judgment can be pronounced on the tangible benefits to be derived by the citizens of the Western Canadian prairie provinces as a result of the agreement, that is a verdict which must await results demonstrable after the pact has been in operation for awhile, and perhaps, for some considerable time.

This is a statement which cannot be emphasized too strongly. For it must be borne in mind that the benefits of a reciprocal commercial agreement cannot be reaped immediately for the gates are flung open; nor can the maximum exchange of commodities, which gives concessions have been granted, be realized in the earlier stages of the operations of an agreement.

There are good reasons for this. The amount of the duty reductions involved in no way means the only factor which determines the quantity and value of the goods exchanged between the co-operating signatories. There must be an available supply to meet a demand at the time the demand requires it. The demand must exist to take care of the supply. Trade practices and seasonal exigencies are contingencies which have to be reckoned with. New financial arrangements have to be made when commodities are diverted into new channels of trade. Existing stocks may have to be liquidated. New methods of packing and shipping may be involved.

Then, too, it should also be pointed out that a number of the commodities on which duties have been reduced under the agreement are subjected to quota restrictions and these will have some bearing in limiting the benefits to be derived.

These are only a few of the factors involved in the diversion of trade over new routes or in developing a trickle into a broad stream. There are others, and because of this, the Western Canadian producer must expect to wait awhile before he is able to reap enhanced prices for the products he exports to sell in a new market and, by the same token, the consumer cannot hope to be able to purchase overnight goods imported under a newly signed agreement at a great deal less than the price he has been accustomed to pay.

Unquestionably one of the most important concessions to Western Canadian agriculture is the reduction of the duty on live cattle exported to the United States. This is one of the items, however, on which a quota restriction is placed. The lowering of the duty will provide a needed outlet for a considerable number of cattle but, on the other hand, many cattle raisers, who have been almost driven out of the business in the past two or three years on account of drought conditions, will not be in a position to take advantage of the new market for some time.

While Western Canadian consumers will undoubtedly benefit by reduction of tariff on a number of commodities importable from the U.S.A., it should not necessarily be assumed that the benefit will be immediate on all articles covered by the agreement or even, in some cases, to the full extent of the reduction in duty. For example, it has already been announced by the radio dealers' association in Winnipeg that the lowered duty on radios will not result in reduction of price to the Canadian purchaser because radios sold in this country are made in Canada "and are considerably cheaper than the American models plus duty."

These statements are not made with any intent to belittle the agreement, the efforts of the governments who have had a hand in the pact or the ultimate results which may ensue as a result of the insertion of the time of the wedge, but they are made in the hope that over-optimism as to immediate results will not result in disappointment.

No matter what the operation of this first agreement may bring in the way of benefits to Western Canadian producers of exports and consumers of imports, the important thing is that it paves the way for further concessions and, it is to be hoped, in the not far distant future.

It might also well be pointed out that there are some indications that the operation of this pioneer pact may prove to be more beneficial than the more cautious commentators anticipate. The daily press reported that eastern Canadian manufacturers are apprehensive and, on the other side of the international boundary a number of interests, fearful of the effects of new Canadian imports, are planning to lodge vigorous protests at Washington. Straws show which way the wind is blowing.

This would indicate that the new agreement may be a casus belli in the next national elections in that country, with what results remains to be seen. It is comforting to know that President Roosevelt has stated he believes the agreement will double the trade between the two countries within a couple of years and it may reasonably be expected that he will defend his action rather than recede from the position he has taken.

Wheat Via Churchill

A total of 12,446,000 bushels of wheat has been exported from Western Canada by way of Churchill since 1931, the directors report, presented in Regina at the annual meeting of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool, showed. In the season just passed, 2,407,000 bushels went out of the country via the Hudson Bay route, compared with a high mark of 4,050,000 bushels in 1934.

Survival Of Old Days

The venison banquet, given to the Prince of Wales by the Mayor of Windsor, is a survival of the days when King John, in the hope of discouraging poaching in Windsor Forest, made a gift of venison to the whole town once a year. Successive Sovereigns have carried on the custom in various forms.

On leaving school, German girls are required to take a post as "mother's help" for a year before entering business. No pay except board and lodging is given during this period.

New Weather Predictor

Magnetometer Can Forecast Conditions Two Years Ahead

Selby Maxwell, instructor in meteorology, who has been doing research work in a laboratory at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., has invented a "magnetometer" to aid him in his computations.

"You can predict the world's weather for two years in advance with the same ease that you might predict a storm for to-morrow," he asserted.

Last August, he said, he knew there would be a major storm in the northeastern United States in mid-November. In October he made 12 charts of the storm's course, and placed a blue print of the storm in the hands of navy weather men and his friends.

His new principle is based on the fact that the relative motions of the earth, moon and sun are irregular, resulting in a slight motion of the earth's whole mass.

"That causes the atmosphere, which is like a fluid, to slosh back and forth over the earth, just as water will slosh out of a pan if the pan is jiggled," he said.

Maxwell predicted little snow this winter and another drought next summer.

Fashions A Telescope

Western Ontario Student Makes Himself An Efficient Instrument

A few pieces of sheet metal, some bits of a broken windshield, and Randall Cole, of Chatham, University of Western Ontario student, watch the rings gaily spinning about Saturn, or the moons on their never-ending trail around Jupiter.

For 18 months, he devoted his spare hours to working on odds and ends, and out of them, he fashioned, at no great expense, a telescope. Recently he showed his creation to his astronomical professor, Dr. H. R. Kingston, who described it as one of the most successful telescopes for amateur purposes he has seen.

Mr. Cole made the lens out of a piece of broken windshield, grinding it himself. For the six-inch mirror, he invented in a piece of one-inch plate glass, but even in that case, he made it into a mirror himself.

Two pieces of sheet metal, rolled to resemble stove pipe, formed the base of the telescope. About it he constructed his lenses and mirrors, his delicate instruments, all of which were made out of wood, turned on his own lathe.

Royal Winter Fair

Alberta Is Heavy Winner In Cattle Class

Alberta came to fore at the Royal Winter Fair when Charles Bull, of Calgary, exhibited the winner in the senior yearling division for bulls, Hereford beef cattle section. Exhibits of Kendall Stock Co., Kew, Alta., and Frank Collicutt, Crossfield, Alta., were second and third, respectively.

Western entries also dominated the bull junior yearling class with first ribbon going to W. Crawford, Frost, Hanton, Alta., on Donald Stanway Third. In second place was Hughes Bros., High River, Alta., with Wintcroft Bardsolph.

The Prince of Wales ranch of High River, Alta., with Bapton Orator, was judged best in the bull, two years and under three class of the Shorthorn beef cattle section.

No Vaccination Marks

Just Swallow A Pill Is The New Method

The day way for little Mary will vacillate herself by gulping down a pill was envisioned by Dr. Lloyd Arnold of the University of Illinois.

The vaccination mark will thus be done away with, the medical college professor told bacteriologists of Indiana, Michigan and Ohio. The pill, he said, will contain vaccine, or dead bacteria.

In order that this stuff may not be destroyed by digestive fluids, science plays a trick on the stomach, administering a bile pill thirty minutes before the vaccination pill is taken, he said.

As a result, the stomach remains quiet for one or two hours, and the vaccine passes on unchanged to the small intestine, where it is slowly absorbed into the blood stream.

Sounds Like Good Advice

A farmer once asked the editor of a country paper for advice, as follows: "I have a horse, that at times appears normal but at other times is lame to an alarming degree. What shall I do?"

The reply came: "The next time your horse appears normal, sell him."

A New Ship Elevator

Will Be Capable Of Handling Vessels Of 11,000 Tons

A ship elevator is being constructed near Rothensee, Germany, about eight and a half miles north of Magdeburg, where the Middle canal crosses the River Elbe by a large aqueduct.

The difference between the level of the water of the canal and of the river varies from about 31 feet at high tide to nearly 56 feet at low.

This new elevator will resemble the famous ship elevator at Niedererwin in so far that it will be able to accommodate ships of 11,000 tons, but otherwise represents a different type of construction.

While the Niedererwin elevator rises 210 feet above the earth's surface, the new construction near Rothensee will be built deep in the ground. Instead of the water trough which carries the ships being borne up and down on wire-pulleys, here it will rest on two floats, each 30 to 96 feet, which are propelled by hydraulic pressure, and move up and down in shafts 210 feet deep.

The shafts, which have now been completed, stand over 150 feet apart and are each 33 feet thick with cast-iron interior walls, reinforced with concrete. Pillars 60 feet high carry the water through, and, like the Niedererwin elevator, the whole structure rests on an enormous concrete caisson.

Curious Old Laws

Smoking On Street Is Still Illegal In Britain

A recent freak court case at Hastings caused lawyers to search the statute books and remind Britons that curious laws remain un repealed and could send anyone to jail.

Still illegal in Britain are: Smoking a cigarette in the street. Sunday radio broadcasting.

Christmas dinner of more than three courses.

Making a mince pie "an abominable and idolatrous thing."

Playing billiards on a Sunday.

It is possible, according to the old laws, for anyone to be jailed for inducing another person to drink more liquor than would be good for him.

Says Indians Of James Bay Area Have Changed Little In Past Centuries

Despite three centuries of missionary and other contacts with the white race, one group of Canadian Indians to-day was reported much the same as it was 1,000 years ago.

Dr. Truman Michelson, Smithsonian Institute ethnologist, found last summer that the James Bay Indians in the northern part of Ontario have changed their language, customs, folklore and mythology little during the past eight or 10 centuries.

He said they probably are nearer than any other Indians to the type of primitive Algonquians who peopled eastern North America long before the white man arrived.

Famed River Drying Up

Many Ships Stranded On Sand Banks In Blue Danube

The famous Danube river is drying up—as a result of drought unprecedented for this time of year.

The Danube and Sava, which meet under the walls of Belgrade, are now lower than for more than 50 years. In many places people can wade across them.

All navigation on the Sava has been abandoned and many ships are stranded on sand banks. On the Danube only small vessels of less than four feet draught can pass.

River service between Belgrade and Vienna has stopped.

Willing To Help

Charles Phillips in his "Paderewski" tells a story of Lord Balfour. In 1917, Balfour was in Washington, and one evening at dinner he handed back the menu card to the Negro waiter and, placing a generous tip by his plate, said, "Just bring me a good meal." A very good meal was served, and the same thing happened several times.

On the last occasion the tip was troubled. "Thank you, sah," said the Negro, "an' if you done got any othah frien's w'at cain't read, you jee' send 'em to me, sah."

Life Insurance

Companies Have A Mission To Perform That Is Vital To The Future

The Canadian Life Insurance Officers' Association is "the biggest of the best interests," but that is a reason for pride and not apology. Finance Minister Charles Dunning told members attending the 42nd annual meeting of the association at Toronto. Mr. Dunning spoke briefly.

Representing assets of $2,500,000,000, and acting on behalf of 3,500,000 policy-holders life insurance men have a duty of trusteeship to perform that is vital to the future of Canada, Mr. Dunning asserted.

"There is scarcely a big interest in this country," he remarked, "that is not in reality an intricate system of trusteeship. Without you, and the trusteeship of $2,500,000,000 which you represent, Canada would be in a vastly different place than it is to-day."

Big interests must not be regarded as sinister just because they were big, said Mr. Dunning, in urging insurance officials to stress their trusteeship to the people.

Making Canada His Home

Young Boy Travels Alone From England To Edmonton

Looking as neat and fresh as though he had just stepped out of an English grammar school to spend a "half holiday," nine-year-old Norman Bell, completed a 5,000 mile journey from Durham, England, all alone. Left an orphan last Christmas with the death of his father, Norman's yearning for adventure and sight-seeing apparently turned toward Canada and when he received an invitation from his uncle, Arthur S. Jackson, 11820 93rd street, to come to live with him in Edmonton, he readily accepted.

SAY OIL EMBARGO MAY RESULT IN A WORLD WAR

Rome.—"Responsible persons with high connections said a war that might be a world war that might result if the League of Nations places an oil embargo upon Italy."

These persons were not officials. They said Premier Mussolini, at a midnight session of the Fascist grand council, Nov. 18, adopted this three-point program to be used if such an embargo is applied:

1. Italy would withdraw her ambassadors and ministers from all "enemy" countries (those applying the oil sanctions).

2. Italy would quit the League of Nations.

3. Italy's "death squad" air force of the navy would strike immediately at the British Mediterranean fleet. The "death squad" reported to be a force of 125 pilots pledged to go to certain death. Each would carry one huge bomb in his plane, pick out an enemy warship and dive upon the vessel.

It would be a sudden, desperate drive in an attempt to break through the ring of 52 besieging nations, these sources said. Knowledge of this program, these sources continued, caused postponement of a meeting of a League of Nations committee to consider an oil embargo.

London.—Undaunted by Premier Mussolini's war-like preparations at home the government was understood to have decided to ask the League of Nations for an oil embargo against Italy when the sanctions committee next meets.

Information has been received here that Mr. Duce has decided once more to reinforce the Libyan-Egyptian frontier. Rome views the threatened oil embargo as a serious threat to Italy.

A Havana despatch from Alexandria said it had been learned from reliable sources that Mussolini would order the army division already withdrawn from Libya as a peace gesture sent back to the Egyptian frontier again.

Meanwhile, Anglo-French talks for an Eilat-Hebron peace have been greeted with satisfaction here. Private information from Rome indicates that since economic sanctions went into effect Mr. Duce has become much less zealous in his attitude.

Geneva.—France is not opposed to applications of League of Nations sanctions forbidding exportation of oil to Italy, league officials said as the league general staff ruled that Italian importers should receive no commercial credit.

License All Merchants

New Regulation For Alberta Beginning January 1

Edmonton.—All wholesale and retail merchants in Alberta will be licensed by the provincial government beginning January 1, it was announced by Premier Albert.

The move, it was said, is being made at the instance of the merchants themselves, and in some quarters is regarded as a preliminary to a system of merchandising codes of minimum or fixed prices on specific products in Alberta.

Cost of the license has not been decided, it was revealed, but is expected to be about $3 each.

Terror Man Sentenced

Winchester, England.—Arthur Charles Mortimer, called a "terror man" for his alleged practice of running down girl cyclists while driving a stolen automobile, was found guilty of murder and sentenced to death. The six-foot-tall lance corporal, stationed at Aldershot barracks, was found guilty of fatally wounding Mrs. Phyllis Mary Oakes, a beautiful private secretary, by deliberately running her down Aug. 8.

Aviator Promoted

Edmonton.—C. H. "Punch" Dickins, superintendent of Mackenzie river district, Canadian Airways, Limited, and winner in 1928 of the McKee trophy for outstanding flying, has been promoted to general superintendent of northern aviation for the company, it was learned here.

Atlantic Air Mail Service

Discussions At Ottawa Expected To Speed Up Activity

Ottawa, Ont.—Airmail discussions between representatives of Great Britain, the Irish Free State, Newfoundland and Canada concluded and it is confidently expected that as a result of the conference, airmail activity in Canada will be greatly accelerated next year.

The main topic of discussion has been the launching of a trans-Atlantic airmail service. Such a service will require heavy mail subsidies and a justice problem to be solved in apportioning the total subsidy among Great Britain, the three Dominions as well as the United States. So far as the technical end of the service goes, practically all of the work, so far as the empire is concerned, will have to be done by Imperial Airways and the interviews given out by the British delegates clearly state that rapid progress is being made. What Canada must decide is the extent and nature of the land facilities which will be required and the contribution which will be made to the support of the trans-Atlantic service.

Royal Air Force

Capt. Pocock Recommends Flying To Those Who Like Adventure

Toronto.—Capt. Roger Pocock, one of the world's great fliers, recommended the Royal Air Force to young fellows with a yen for adventure and danger. The 70-year-old captain said: "Always tackle the most dangerous thing you can find. Founder of the Legion of Frontiersmen, a non-military organization devoted to the defence and 'safety, honor and welfare of our sovereign and his dominions,' Capt. Pocock met here in the course of an empire tour to further the interests of the organization.

Will Protect Consumers

Regulation To Prevent "Cut Throat Competition" In Alberta

Edmonton.—Full protection of consumers under any business code to be adopted in Alberta will be demanded by the government. Premier Albert declared in commenting on discussions between retail and wholesale merchants and the government toward establishment of regulations to prevent "cut-throat competition" in the trade. It was expected that the government took the view that retailers, wholesalers and manufacturers must join in drawing up their own codes and then have their proposals approved by the government.

High Standard

Dr. Banting Says Medical Work In Russia Ranks High

Hamilton, Ont.—Sir Frederick Banting, one of the discoverers of insulin as a cure for diabetes, told the Hamilton Health Association of the high standard of medical work he observed on a recent visit to Soviet Russia.

"You rarely see a case of tuberculosis in Russia," he said. Trade union doctors examine the workers before they enter factories and they are placed under care immediately if any signs of disease are detected.

Profits On Canal

Suez Doing Tidy Business From War Operations

Paris.—An increase of $5,000,000 francs (about $2,275,000) in Suez canal receipts in 1935 over 1934 was forecast by canal officials.

Italian military operations, it was announced, were entirely responsible for an increase in traffic which made the income, from Jan. 1 to Nov. 29, 759,000,000 francs compared with 759,000,000 francs for the corresponding period of last year.

New Radio Station

Edmonton.—Forging the last link in an aviation chain of private short wave radio stations linking northern Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba and extending into the northwest mining area as far as Cameron Bay, N.W.T., a radio station is being opened in the offices of Canadian Airways, Limited, here, C. H. "Punch" Dickins, company superintendent, announced.

Chinese Girls Guide Tourists

Shanghai, China.—Modern young Chinese girls are being trained as tourist guides by the Shanghai guiding service. The girls, stylishly dressed, are many of them, from well-to-do families. They work for 25 cents an hour conducting parties on tours of shops, sightseeing or on social tours.

Find Lost Mine

Rich Copeland Mine In Northern Ontario Believed Located

Hudson, Ont.—The word went around in this western Ontario mining district that the lost Copeland mine, a mine that promised riches in the early years of the century, had been found.

The mine was abandoned and when efforts were made to locate it recently it could not be found.

An accident some days ago revealed the Copeland. Two miners of the nearby Sakosko gold mines tripped over a rusty shovel while walking through dense bush. The finding of the shovel led to an extended search of the area.

A quartz vein containing free gold was uncovered. A plentiful sprinkling of rose quartz in the vein indicated that the find, almost beyond doubt, was the Copeland.

Would Abolish Senate

De Valera Makes New Move For Irish Free State

Dublin, Irish Free State.—Eamon De Valera, president of the Irish Free State, made a new move for abolition of the senate.

He tabled a motion in the bill known as "constitution amendment No. 24" he sent to the senate. The bill will consider it Dec. 5.

The bill in question proposes to abolish the senate. It has been held up for 18 months following its rejection by the senate. Under the constitution, after 18 months the government is empowered to send a defeated bill to the senate again.

If the upper house again rejects it, it can, nevertheless, become law within 60 days.

GOVERNMENT TO INVESTIGATE THE PRISON SYSTEM

Ottawa.—It was the intention of the government to appoint a royal commission to investigate Canada's penitentiary system. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, minister of justice, stated, but plans for setting up the commission have not reached a stage where any announcement could be made.

Report of the Ontario attorney-general on the case of David McRea, serving a 15-year sentence for the Labatt kidnapping, was being studied by departmental legal experts, Mr. Lapointe said, and he would not expect to be in a position to announce his decision for several days.

Speculation as to the fate of the Canadian wheat board and the policy to be adopted by the government to ward disposal of the wheat surplus still lacks any official background and Mr. Lapointe said there was nothing to announce in this respect.

It has been strongly rumored that John I. McFarland, chairman of the board, would be replaced by James R. Murray, vice-president and general manager of the Alberta Pacific wheat pool.

With the death of Hon. Charles Murphy of Ottawa the prime minister has a vacancy to fill in the senate and several names have been prominently mentioned. These include Frank O'Connor and W. T. Kernahan of Toronto, John Gieson, Ottawa, R. M. Burns, London, and J. J. McCann, member-elect for South Renfrew.

A seat must be found for Hon. C. A. Dunning, minister of finance, and it has been repeatedly rumored that Ontario would furnish it. Appointment of Mr. McCann to the senate would open up South Renfrew.

At the left is Earl Winterton, former under-secretary of state for India, who is slated to take the place of William Ormsby Gore, right, First Commissioner of Works, who may become the new Minister of War in the British Cabinet.

TO BE ROYAL HOSTESS

When George II. resumes his duties as King of Greece after an extended exile, which ended with a recent plebiscite in his favour, his sister, Princess Helen, will reign as "royal hostess" instead of his estranged wife who is not in popular favour with her former subjects. Princess Helen divorced King Carol of Rumania a few years ago.

Oil Embargo

Italy Takes Very Seriously The Threat Of League

Rome.—Premier Mussolini has recalled to the colors 100,000 soldiers previously released for farm work, and personally presented a $33,000,000 naval construction decree to the chamber of deputies.

Italy was said to look very seriously upon the threat of a League of Nations oil embargo. Sources near the government said the country might even resist forcibly an extension of league sanctions. They asserted Italy would be slowly strangled if embargoes on coal and oil were added to the severe sanctions already being applied. Gasoline prices rose to $1.08 a gallon.

Well informed circles said Italian oil stocks probably were not large, as statistics showed imports this year had been only a little above normal. Continuing his drive to overcome the threatened shortage in fuel, the premier will personally inaugurate the work of the Chemical Corporation.

This group will be entrusted with the duty of developing productions of alcohol, wood alcohol and benzol, the only native materials capable of replacing imported petroleum products.

Italy's semi-official oil monopoly was increased in size to facilitate a full control of the market.

Training German Children

All Over Ten Must Prepare For Labor Service

Berlin.—German boys and girls over the age of 10 will undergo special training to prepare them for the compulsory labor service in the third reich, the Nazi government announced.

The boys will have additional preparation for the obligatory military service which they must perform after their terms in labor camps.

Both young men and young women must serve in compulsory labor camps under the law intended to make the German nation physically and mentally fit to meet any domestic or foreign crisis.

Peace Efforts

France And Britain Endeavor To End Conflict In Ethiopia

Geneva.—The belief persisted in international circles that France and Great Britain are making determined efforts to end the conflict between Ethiopia and Italy by conciliation and new evidence of this in the broadcast by Premier Laval, of France, of his appeal for national support.

In Italian quarters it was agreed the best chance for halting the war is through a direct agreement between Mussolini and Emperor Haile Selassie, which is admittedly difficult.

The Paris newspaper L'Ouvreur said it had learned in reliable quarters Great Britain has offered to serve as intermediary in peace talks between Italy and Ethiopia.

The League of Nations' general staff of experts met to examine the general sanctions situation with the projected addition of an oil embargo to the war penalties.

Working On Proposal

Unemployment Commission Is Receiving Attention Of Premier King

Ottawa.—Completion of the basic details of a national unemployment commission, a plank in the Liberal government's program, is understood to be one of the activities which engaged the attention of Prime Minister Mackenzie King during his visit to the Georgia seaside resort.

Some weeks ago the premier said it would be the intention of the government to have the unemployment commission practically completed before the Dominion-provincial conference which opens Dec. 9. The commission will be patterned somewhat after the Canadian economic fund commission. It will be an honorary commission with a salaried executive.

Increase In Employment

Level Higher Than In Any Month Since December 1930

Ottawa.—An employment gain in Canada of 14,803 persons reported by the Dominion bureau of statistics. The bureau said the Nov. 1 payroll of 9,482 firms making returns stood at 1,012,103 persons compared with 997,300 on Oct. 1.

The bureau reported the employment level at Nov. 1 was higher than that of any month since Dec. 1, 1930. It said particularly important improvements occurred in logging while highway and building construction, mining, retail trade and manufacturing also contributed gains.

OIL TANKERS ARE ORDERED TO BE IN READINESS

Montreal.—Masters of oil tankers forming the large fleet owned by the British admiralty and operated under charter by commercial interests, received orders to hold themselves and their ships in readiness, The Gazette said.

"Several of these admiralty tankers are well known in Montreal," the paper continues. "One of them, the Olin, was in port only last week. While the waterfront is familiar with their true identity—that of ships owned by the royal navy—they come here as commercial vessels operated by an oil company and handled through regular steamship agents."

"Recently, when conditions in the Mediterranean became serious, orders went out to the masters of these tankers—men of the Royal Naval reserve—to hold their ships in readiness for any call that might be made upon them at any time, according to information gained here."

"Not required by the navy in the ordinary course of events, the tankers are let out on charter and ply between a number of ports, including those of the Dutch East Indies. They come to Montreal at various times throughout the navigation season, bringing oil and gasoline to local wharves."

"They are subject to recall at any time by the British admiralty, and in a case where they would be required on active service, would be used to refuel ships of the royal navy at sea."

"The British admiralty owns a large fleet of these oil tankers, numbering about 59 in all. Most of them were built in 1917 and 1918, and were used during the war. A few are of later date, constructed in 1920, 1921 and 1922."

"The tankers are in command of officers holding rank in the Royal Naval reserve."

PLAN TO CLOSE ALL RELIEF CAMPS IN COMING YEAR

Ottawa.—The Dominion government hopes to close all relief camps during the coming year, Hon. Norman McLeod Rogers, minister of labor, announced.

Mr. Rogers also announced appointment of a committee of three to make personal investigations and reports on certain problems raised by the pending transfers, of these relief camps from the department of national defence.

The work will consist of R. A. Rigg, chief of the Dominion employment service; Humphrey Mitchell, former labor member for Hamilton East in the federal house, and Dr. E. W. Bradwin, president of the Frontier College. Dr. Bradwin lives in Toronto and the minister referred to his peculiar qualifications for the work to be done because of his connection with an organization which conducts educational work in frontier labor camps.

The committee will start work immediately and intend visiting as many as possible of the 100-odd camps in Canada. The majority of these camps are located in British Columbia and Alberta. Approximately 20,000 men are in them at present.

In the past they have been run by the department of national defence, but steps for their transfer to the labor department were taken soon after the present government assumed office. The entire cost of the camps has been assumed by the Dominion.

In making his announcement, Mr. Rogers emphasized the object was to get camp workers back into regular employment. He felt that with improved conditions the field for them would open gradually. It would be the object of the government to see that they were engaged in work which would be of genuine use while they were in the camps.

Established New Record

Graf Zeppelin Stayed Aloft 110 Hours To Avoid Revisit

Berlin.—The German dirigible Graf Zeppelin established a new record for sustained flight, according to advices here. The Zeppelin's commander, cruising over Pernambuco, Brazil, reported to the ship's main offices by wireless that the Graf had been in the air for 119 hours since it left Friedrichshafen last week.

(A report from Rio de Janeiro said the Graf landed later at Pernambuco. It had been over Pernambuco three days in the vicinity, waiting until the Brazilian revolt subsided before landing.)

The Graf's previous record for length of time aloft was established on a flight to North America in 1928 when it was in the air 111 hours, 44 minutes. On that trip the Zeppelin was caught in a storm and saved from disaster by the heroism of the crew in making emergency repairs.

Ban Liquor Advertising

Daily And Weekly Newspapers In Alberta Affected February 1

Edmonton.—All liquor advertising, including daily and weekly newspapers, billboards, placards, radio and all other media, must stop February 1, under a regulation of the provincial government through the liquor control board, it was announced by Premier Albert.

The advertising ban will apply to hard liquor, beer and wine alike. It has been estimated that newspaper revenue from such advertising in this province has averaged about $75,000 a year in the past.

Presentation To Ferguson

London.—In recognition of his services to business interests a luncheon was tendered to Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, formerly Canadian high commissioner to London. Under the chairmanship of Sir Hewitt Skinner 300 of the Anglo-Canadian trading community attended and presented Mr. Ferguson with a George II. silver loving cup. Mrs. Ferguson was present with jewelry.

Motor Fatalities

Chicago.—Deaths on the highways of the United States reached a new high mark in the first 10 months of 1935, the National Safety Council disclosed. Council statisticians counted 28,790 motor vehicle fatalities in the first 10 months of this year compared to the previous high of 28,733 during a similar period in 1934.
